

ITALY PREPARES FOR CONFLICT WITH AUSTRIA

Forty Extra Trains to Mobilize Troops at Italian Frontier

MAY ENTER WAR BEFORE WEDNESDAY

Count D'Abruzzi in Charge of the Navy, Has All Vessels in Readiness—Kaiser Has Told Italy That Austria's Troubles Are Germany's Troubles and Would be Treated as Such—Austria is Continuing Her Preparations for the Conflict With Great Dispatch.

(By United Press)

Rome, May 7.—The railway administration has put on forty extra passenger trains to carry troops to the fighting lines in case of war between Austria and Italy.

A telegram from Berlin was received, in which the Kaiser said that Austria's troubles were Germany's troubles and would be dealt with as such.

Mobilizing Her Army

Italy is continuing the preparation for war and is concentrating her army at different places.

The Duke d'Abruzzi is in charge of the fleet, which is in all readiness.

Orders have been issued that all telegraph and telephone communications would be suspended without notice.

Austria is Preparing

Austria is continuing her preparations for war at top speed.

While a conference was being held in Brascha palace a great crowd stood outside and great anxiety was displayed to learn what result had been reached in the deliberations, for it is felt that war with Italy is inevitable at an early date.

Nine Shells Necessary to Destroy Vessel and Crew Took to the Boats

Three Ships Made Up the List of Victims of German Submarines, Another Schooner and a Danish Steamer Being Sent to the Bottom—Crews and Passengers Saved.

London, May 7.—The schooner Earl Latham was sunk by a German submarine off Kinsale, on the Irish coast yesterday. The crew was permitted to take to the small boats, and was rescued by a trawler. The submarine fired nine shells at the schooner before she sank.

The trawler Stratton of Grimsby was sunk in the North sea Wednesday by the gun fire of a German submarine. The crew was taken aboard the submarine.

Deprived of Speech Through Accident

Miss Charlotte Dunlap, who was struck on the head last Tuesday afternoon as she was sitting on the porch by the bedspring which fell over on her, is in a serious condition. Miss Dunlap was struck on the temple and as a result has lost her power of speech.

It is thought by the doctors that this is pressing on that part of the brain which controls speech. It is quite likely that it will be necessary to perform an operation.

Two More Vessels Sunk By German Agencies

(By United Press)

Liverpool, May 7.—The Charente liner Candidate, of this city was torpedoed and sunk off Waterford island yesterday by a German submarine. The crew was saved.

The Candidate was a 1,500 ton vessel.

Gives up All Hope
Austria has apparently given up all hope of averting a conflict with Italy. An uncensored report from Vienna reached here yesterday morning announcing the proposed mission of Count Goluchowski, former Austrian foreign minister to Rome has been abandoned. It is believed that Count Goluchowski was to be bearer of Austria's reply to Italy's demand for a clear statement of its position of the dual monarchy regarding the cession of territory to Italy in return for continued neutrality.

War Expected by Wednesday
The abandonment of the mission is thought to mean that Austria realizes that it would be useless and that even an offer of further concessions to Italy would not prevent her intervention on the side of the entente powers. The rupture of Austro-Italian diplomatic relations is now regarded as inevitable and likely to occur not later than May 12.

State of Siege at Fiume
The Geyman archeological institute, attached to the German embassy in Rome, has been closed up. A state of siege has been declared at Fiume, the Hungarian seaport, and it is to be extended shortly throughout the southern provinces of Austro-Hungary.

CHINA ACCEDES TO JAPAN'S DEMANDS

(By United Press)

London, May 7.—Special despatches from Tokio say that the Chinese have practically acceded to all the Japanese demands and that only this prevents a war of terrible moment.

Pekin, May 7.—The Chinese' new reply was in effect an acceptance of practically all of the chief Japanese demands.

President Yuan Shi Kai and his advisers after an all night conference thought it useless to attempt to oppose the Japanese demands by force of arms.

MRS. FLORENCE CARMAN

LUSITANIA TORPEDOED BY GERMAN SUBMARINE; ALL PASSENGERS SAVED

(By United Press)

New York, May 7.—Rumors that the Cunard Steamship company liner Lusitania was attacked by a German submarine was circulated in shipping circles here this afternoon.

Ticker reports that the vessel was sunk off Kinsale island, which is about 15 miles south of Cork.

Many American Passengers.

Many Americans were on board, among them being Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Charles Frohman, Charles Kline, Elbert Hubbard and Mrs. Hubbard.

Torpedoed by Submarine

"The steamship Lusitania has been submarined off the coast of Ireland," was the message received by the steamship officials from London and given out by one of their executives.

He said that as this report has not been confirmed he was not prepared to make any statement, but would keep the public fully informed of every line of information received by them as soon as it is received.

The steamship company declined to state the source of its information, except that it was received from London by cablegram in the exact form as given out.

Report is Confirmed—All Passengers Rescued

A bulletin from London, received here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, confirms the report that the Lusitania has been torpedoed and sunk.

The vessel went down at 2:33 (London time).

All of the passengers were saved.

Madera Horse Stolen Young Thief Caught

Walter Vashinder, a youth of Madera, is in the Ebensburg jail, having been arrested on information from Madera that he had stolen a horse. The boy is alleged to have stolen the horse yesterday and took it to Ebensburg. He offered to sell the animal for $95, although it is said to be worth $200.

Young Vashinder, when arrested, was dressed a la western cowboy, with a regulation sombrero, a 32-caliber revolver, a dirk knife and a deck of cards. It is thought he started out from Madera to join others of his kind in killing Indians in the wild west, but his arrest spoiled that expedition. He will be brought back to Madera and may be lodged in jail.

German Successes Are Denied

(By United Press)

Washington, May 7.—The Russian embassy today received the following dispatch from the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs:

Petrograd, May 5 1915.—"The reports from Berlin and Vienna of a victory gained by the Germans and Austrians in Western Galicia are absolutely unfounded. The battles that are proceeding now in that region give no foundation whatever to talk even of a partial success of our enemies. You are asked to contradict most emphatically the reports spread by the Germans."

Houtzdale Priest Expires Suddenly

Rev. Father Max Swideraski, the priest in charge of the Polish Catholic church at Houtzdale, died suddenly at Johnsonburg yesterday morning. The Houtzdale priest had gone to Johnsonburg to attend a session of the Erie diocese. He was in good health, apparently, when he reached Johnsonburg, but while standing at the railroad station talking to several other priests he suddenly fell to the ground and expired in a few minutes.

The body of the dead priest was prepared for burial, placed on the train and passed through here on its way to Houtzdale yesterday afternoon.

BUSINESS IMPROVING

Three extra crews have been put on the trains on the B. & P. railroad between Punxsutawney and Salamanca in the past four days, indicating a big improvement in the business in this section, although the coal business is at a standstill with miners working fast time and less at some of the collieries.

MURDER CASE JURYMEN DIFFICULT TO SECURE

Regular Venire Exhausted And Sheriff Sent After Other Possible Jurors

FIRST WITNESSES HEARD BEFORE NOON

Likely That the Rest of the Week Will be Consumed in Taking Testimony, as There Are Many Witnesses to Examine—Pellereti is on Trial on the Charge That He Strangled His Wife to Death at Their Home in Woodland—Hint That Another Woman Was the Cause.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Joe Pellereti who is charged with having murdered his wife at the home of his brother near Woodland was resumed this morning at 10:30. Nearly all day yesterday was spent in examining jurors for the trial and when court adjourned last evening but nine had been chosen and the entire venire of fifty one men had been exhausted. The sheriff was directed to execute a special venire calling for thirty men from which to chose the remaining three jurors. These three were selected this morning.

The completed jury follows:

James Lord, Pike township.
C. B. Smith, Lawrence township.
Charles Glock, DuBois.
Robert Henderson, Pike township.
Michael Smith, Jordan township.
Jacob Kurtz, Troutville.
W. G. Chick, Sandy township.
James Fitch, Beccaria township.
Charles S. Strong, Jordan township.
Frank P. Bloom, Curwensville.
Creighton Wilson, Bigler.
Charles P. Johnson, DuBois.

Engineer E. W. Hess was the first witness called. Mr. Hess identified the plans he had made of the house and surroundings.

The next witness was Mrs. Pellereti, wife of the defendant's brother Charles, who testified that the last time she had seen Mrs. Joe Pellereti alive was at 7 o'clock on the evening of the murder.

Dal Thompson, who was directed by Undertaker F. B. Leavy to get the body, told where he found it.

There was a good attendance of parents at the Market street school building in observance of Patrons day yesterday afternoon. The program of discussions, printed in the Progress on Wednesday, was carried out with the exception of an address by Dr. S. C. Stewart, who was unavoidably absent. The various papers read were on subjects relating to the school and suggested improvements which should be made in their conducting.

Two of the papers were worthy of most careful consideration—"Parents' Attitude Toward Teachers" and "The School as a Social Center."

G. and Jury Views The Creek Bridge

The grand jurors itinerated to the bridge over Clearfield creek, east of town, this morning and viewed the situation. At a recent term of court a petition was presented for the relocation of this bridge, which is on the road between Clearfield and Woodland, the desire being to straighten the road and cut out the dangerous curve beyond the bridge.

The matter was discussed this morning, those for and against change being heard, and the grand jury will no doubt deal with the case in its report at the close of court this week.

HOME TRADE SLOGAN

In the Progress today will be found a story in which the surprising merchants and business men of Clearfield are prominently. This article may sound like fiction, but to the consumer who is worrying over the problem of reducing the high cost of living the tales related by the Judge, the Colonel and the Doctor will be found to be replete with facts of a mighty interesting and illuminating character. The housewife who wishes to make the money at her disposal go the farthest possible in providing for the needs of her family will find in this story some most excellent and wise counsel.

The Progress has at all times advocated buying at home. This paper cannot see any wisdom in the practice indulged in by many people of taking money they earn or other wise become possessed of in their own town and spending it with concerns in distant cities for goods which might as readily and as cheaply be purchased at the stores of the home merchants. The slogan of this paper is, "Buy of home merchants and encourage the home merchants to help build up the town." Buying of mail order houses is unpatriotic and does great harm to the town in which you live. There are in every town people who imagine that by buying of mail order houses they are getting something for nothing, forgetting for the moment the fact that the mail order houses are not philanthropists and are in business for the money they get from people in the small towns of the country. The prices offered by the mail order houses are in some instances a little lower than asked by the home merchant, but when a citizen buys of the mail order house he takes what is sent to him and if he is dissatisfied he has no remedy.

Not one penny of the millions of dollars which flow into the coffers of the mail order concerns ever returns to the people who contribute it. This fact should be considered by the people of Clearfield. It is the home merchant who helps to sustain the schools, churches and charitable institutions in Clearfield; the mail order houses contribute not one penny to these. It is the home merchant who responds to appeals of the hungry poor, the destitute and to all who are in need; the mail order house rakes in the people's money and cares nothing for the people or the town from which it comes.

Those who patronize the mail order houses are without local pride. They have not at heart the best interests of the town in which they live and in which they earn or otherwise get the money they spend with the mail order houses. They are not helping to build up the town in which they live and in which they should take some pride. They are selfish, and in their selfishness they are not only injuring the town, but themselves, for what hurts a town injures the individual citizen thereof. Read the Home Trade news in the Progress today and determine to trade with home merchants wholly hereafter.

A REPUBLICAN TRICK

Soldiers who, during the civil war, were ready to lay down their lives for their country, and fought in many battles are entitled to the pittance given them by the United States government in the shape of pensions. Surviving Pennsylvania soldiers believe this state is rich enough to give them some substantial recognition of their services during the war, but the veterans have abandoned all hope of having the legislature do them this justice.

At each recurring session of the state legislature in recent years Republican members have introduced bills granting a small annuity to the Keystone soldiers who still survive, and a great deal of oratory is wasted by Republican members in extolling the heroism of the veterans and in declaring that they should receive pensions from the state. And at each session of the legislature the soldiers' pension bill is defeated by these same Republican legislators.

These bills are introduced for the sole purpose of "jolly" the old soldiers and inducing them to support Republican candidates at the polls. There is no intention on the part of the Republican party in this state to grant pensions to the veterans, and this fact has at last percolated through the minds of the old soldiers, who now know that their pretended friends in the legislature have been fooling them for several years. It is a shame to attempt to hoodwink the men who fought for the honor of the state and the preservation of the Union, but it is a trick in keeping with the principles of the men in control of the Republican party in Pennsylvania at present.

JAPAN'S OPPORTUNITY

What was feared when Japan entered the European conflict is apparently about to take place. Japan's browbeating tactics with China could not have been started at more opportune time. China is practically helpless against the Nipponese, while the other nations of Europe are too busy in endeavoring to prevent their own destruction to seriously interfere with Japan's aggression. China. For it is only because she wishes to subjugate and gain more territory that Japan has made demands upon the Chinese government which the latter cannot in honor grant.

Japanese statesmen may prate of the peaceful intentions

tions of that country, but the fact remains that Japan is ready to attempt to take advantage of every opportunity to force herself into the ranks of the old world powers. Her violations of treaties between her country and China is regarded as a matter of course at Tokio. Japan's coming war of aggression will still further inflame her ambition, and if the chance affords there is no doubt that she will seek to still further expand her territory. In view of the known facts the United States has reason to feel rather uncomfortable over the nearness of the Philippines to Japan, whose covetous eyes see great possibilities in every direction.

Also, the annual report of the finances of the borough of Clearfield fails to give the itemized expenditures, which would be more interesting than the report of sewer and paving assessments, which take up so much space in the report.

Pity the farmer who, wishing to put in every minute in his fields, must waste the time listening to the wily candidate. There ought to be a law providing a closed season for the agriculturist.

The autoist who strews all kinds of debris in the public highways isn't encouraging the removal of broken glass and other tire-puncturing material from the roads.

The new fish code will permit an angler to catch forty trout a day, but in this neck o' woods he will have to visit several streams to get the limit.

Having prohibited fishing on Sunday the average man will have to learn to play golf if he wishes to enjoy himself on the Lord's day.

Clearfield at last has a health officer who not only understands his business, but attends to that business in an intelligent manner.

Love at first sight also applies to the woman who gets her first glimpse of an attractive bonnet in a millinery store window.

No danger of anybody in this neck o' woods exceeding the forty-a-day trout which may be caught under the new fish code.

Imitation may be the sincerest flattery, but it is also the cause of increasing the number of people who do not pay their debts.

Gardeners who broke their backs preparing the ground for seed now hope for warmer weather that the seed may sprout.

Clearfield will give the Woman's Suffrage Liberty bell a warm welcome when it passes through here in July.

A mere murder trial attracts little attention in this community these days.

Wait till the sweet south winds blow and the chill north air will disappear.

Japan is determined to break China while the opportunity presents.

REAL MEANING OF ZIONISM

Rebirth of Nation in Palestine is Movement for Greater Freedom of the Jews.

The Jewish movement called Zionism is not a movement for the restoration of the Jews to Palestine. The little land could not support more than 3,000,000 of the 14,000,000 Jews. It is a movement to win more freedom for Jews everywhere. But the new birth of a Jewish nation in Palestine is in process of practical completion.

A generation ago a few Jews emigrated from Roumania and Russia to Palestine because convinced that the Jew's undying yearning for the land of Abraham is a fact of the deepest meaning. It is evidence of the survival of a nationality that has shown its fitness to survive. Those pilgrims and their successors have demonstrated that Palestine is fit for the modern Jew and that he is fit for the land.

Where the land was treeless and supposed to be worthless sterile the colonists have caused the almond and the olive, the grape and the orange, wheat and the sister cereals to thrive and abound. They are changing the desert into a garden. At the same time the material development of the Jewish colonies has been accompanied by no less remarkable development of the Hebrew colonizers both socially and spiritually. Hebrews, after a sleep of more than two thousand years as a "dead" language, has again become a living tongue, serving as the medium of intercommunication between Jews from many countries of different languages. The renaissance of the Hebrew language has in turn acted powerfully to revive the spirit of Jewish nationality.

It is a strange instance of the turns of history's wheel that nearly twenty-three centuries after the return of the Jewish exiles from ancient Babylon, which for millenniums has been buried beneath the dust of ages, modern Jews now return again to the land of their fathers and build up another Hebrew commonwealth.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY
POMONA GRANGE

Pomona Grange, No. 33, met in the Mechanics Hall, Clearfield, Pa., April 29, 1915. The morning session opened in usual form with Worthy Master S. C. Read in the chair. All the sessions were very well attended, considering the busy time of the season. Officers all present except three. The morning session was taken up with general business, reports of deputies and the fire insurance company. Reports of Grangers showed a better average attendance than the previous report and many new names added to the roster.

At the afternoon session, a very interesting program was rendered. Report of the National grange meeting of 1914 was interesting. Reading of the "Grange Code" by V. P. Davis was listened to with much interest. "Early Garden Vegetables and Their Proper Culture" was discussed by Bro. T. L. Wall.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, the act defining commodities, regulating the sale thereof and providing penalties for violation thereof, No. 445, of 1915 session, providing that farm and some other products, when sold by the bushel, shall weigh certain arbitrary amounts per bushel, fixed by law, many of such weights not corresponding to the true weights of such commodities when measured in full standard bushel and so working hardships and loss to the farmers; therefore, be it

Resolved, by Penn Grange, No. 534, P. of H., held at Grampian, March 13, 1915, that the state legislature be asked to amend the above act by the addition of the following:

"Provided, that nothing in this act shall prevent the selling or make it unlawful to sell commodities by the full standard bushel, or peck, or half peck, or gallon, or quart, or pint, without regard to weight, when so stated by the vendor.

Whereas, Governor M. G. Brumbaugh has made a strenuous and persistent effort to have the wish of the people expressed on the temperance question at the ballot box, and

Whereas, his bill to this end, called the county option bill, was defeated by a large majority, therefore be it

Resolved, that this Pomona Grange, No. 33, P. of H. now in session, hereby express our sympathy for the governor and pledge our heartiest support in any future campaign he may wage to kill the demon rum.

Resolved, that we pledge our support only to the candidates who are pledged for temperance.

"Between Savage and Tiger"

All jungle and animal pictures in the past have been limited to the visualization of wild animal life in its native quarter, showing their destruction or capture by hunters. George Kleine's photo drama "Between Savage and Tiger", however goes a step further. It not only shows the animals and terrors of the jungle, but also relates an absorbing story of love and heroism that enthralls the interest in the beginning and holds it fast until the very last picture fades upon the screen.

The jungle episodes, while thrilling enough to satisfy the most exacting demands for thrills and excitement, are subsidiary to the love interests. Herein the great Cines company of Italy has shown the master mind, for after all, love is the mainspring of life itself. In "Between Savage and Tiger" there is the love between the hero and his wife, which prompts the latter to brave the perils of India to find her husband. The child love of the little daughter whose sweetness endears her to everyone with whom she comes in contact and draws into their life history a bluff old sailor who proves their best friend in many dangerous situations.

Thus love plays the real important part in this drama of life in the wilds of India where the other actors are man-eating tigers, elephants, water-buffalo and avage tribesmen. "Between Savage and Tiger" will prove one of George Kleine's biggest money makers because it appeal has no bounds. It will be eagerly seen and enjoyed by young and old of all sexes and stations. The first presentation here will be Friday night at the opera house. 5-6-2t.

Wm. Farnum in Samson

William Farnum, the celebrated actor, who pleased a big audience last Monday night at the opera house when he played the principal part in "The Gilded Fool", will be presented again on Monday, May 10, in a strong play of love and finance called "Samson." In this picture Farnum plays the part of a dock laborer, who, through his strength and ability, has risen to be the greatest power in the money world. He has fallen in love with a beautiful girl, who marries him to save the fortunes of her family and who really despises him. His wife has an intrigue with a dissolute rake, who has made his fortune through her husband, who discovers her affections and resolves on revenge. He does this through his power of finance and pulls down the structure that his wealth and ability has reared, ruining himself with the others who have been living off his ability. After the ruin the wife sees the true character of her husband and her hate turns to love.

It is expected that in the neighborhood of 300,000 hunters will be granted licenses.

MORDECAI BROWN DESCRIBES RECORD GAME

"I've played in and watched a good many ball games in my time," says Mordecai Brown, the noted pitcher, now with the Chicago Federals, "but the record game of them all was staged in St. Louis last season. I was working against Seaton. In the twelfth inning, with the score tied, Brooklyn came up and made seven runs. It got so bad that the last two men struck out on purpose to end the game before darkness, or we might never have retired the side. Then, with that seven runs handicap and Seaton pitching, we came in and made eight runs with two still on and only one out. We could have made three or four more, and I believe they would have done the same. Yet there are people who try to dope out this blooming game."

Brown pitched for Chicago yesterday, losing to Baltimore 8 to 9.

TURNED FROM WAR TO PEACE

William Penn a Distinguished Soldier Before His Conversion to the Faith of the Quakers.

The death day of William Penn, the great advocate of peace, was July 30, 1718. His father was Sir William Penn, an admiral who had fought with distinction the fleets of Spain and Holland, and a gruff old sea dog was he, while his mother was a Dutch woman, a daughter of a rich Rotterdam merchant. While a student at Oxford William Penn went to hear Thomas Lee, a Quaker, preach. He was so affected that he began to think of becoming a Quaker himself. His father heard of the impending metamorphosis with horror and packed off young William to France, where he forgot Quakerism in the gaiety of Paris and returned to his father's de-

AMUSEMENTS

"Between Savage and Tiger"
All jungle and animal pictures in the past have been limited to the visualization of wild animal life in its native quarter, showing their destruction or capture by hunters. George Kleine's photo drama "Between Savage and Tiger", however goes a step further. It not only shows the animals and terrors of the jungle, but also relates an absorbing story of love and heroism that enlists the interest in the beginning and holds it fast until the very last picture fades upon the screen.

The jungle episodes, while thrilling enough to satisfy the most exacting demands for thrills and excitement, are subsidiary to the love interests. Herein the great Cines company of Italy has shown the master mind, for after all, love is the mainspring of life itself. In "Between Savage and Tiger" there is the love between the hero and his wife, which prompts the latter to brave the perils of India to find her husband. The child love of the little daughter whose sweetest endears her to everyone with whom she comes in contact and draws into their life history a bluff old sailor who proves their best friend in many dangerous situations.

Thus love plays the real important part in this drama of life in the wilds of India where the other actors are man-eating tigers, elephants, water-buffalo and avage tribesmen. "Between Savage and Tiger" will prove one of George Kleine's biggest money makers because it appeals to all. It will be eagerly seen and enjoyed by young and old of all sexes and stations. Light, a fine gentleman with all the airs and accomplishments of a courtier. The terrors of the plague in London in 1665 revived his pious tendencies. This time he was sent to Ireland, where he distinguished himself as a soldier. It happened while in Ireland at Cork that he strolled into a meeting house. Thomas Lee was preaching. He spoke from the text "There is a faith that overcomes the world and there is a faith that is overcome by the world." From that meeting is dated Penn's thorough conversion to Quakerism. It is a curious fact that the only authentic portrait of the great apostle of peace represents him at this period as a young man armed and accoutered as a soldier.

MRS. CARMAN'S DAMAGING HER DAY IN SECOND TRIAL

that a negro detective conceded to be in the employ of the defense, had tried to bribe her in the presence of two men, was offered; George Toomer, a cousin of Celia, swore that two days after the murder, Celia told him her incriminating allegations against Mrs. Carman and he corroborated Celia's story of the proffered bribe.

Defense Witnesses Grilled

Both were witnesses of District Attorney Smith, but other testimony was obtained which is thought to be fully as damaging to Mrs. Carman. Most of the defense's witnesses took the stand during the afternoon, and Mr. Smith went after them fiercely. Mrs. Ida Powell, sister of Mrs. Carman and chief witness of Mrs. Carman's alibi—that she was in her room when the fatal shot was fired—came in for a full share of Mr. Smith's attacks; and it seemed to many that he reduced her story to absurdity.

Her Smile Erased

During the day the smile which Mrs. Carman usually had displayed frequently was erased. Doctor Carman sat beside his wife with a continual frown, and the hobnobbing of the three Carman lawyers indicated the agitation they felt. George M. Levy was on his feet most of the time during the testimony of Celia and Toomer, storming objections at Justice Blackmar, who decided that Levy himself had opened the gates for the new testimony offered by these witnesses.

Of course, Mrs. Carman is the best witness for the defense, and she and Doctor Carman will be heard tomorrow. Justice Blackmar wants to get the case to the jury before Saturday night.

"Cooperation of Parents and Teachers," the former by Mrs. Charles T. Kurtz and the latter by Mrs. George B. Reed. The ideas suggested by these two ladies should bear fruit in closer relations between parents and teachers to the end that the schools may become more efficient and the teacher may be better understood and appreciated.

The display of work done by the pupils was viewed with pleasure by those at the meeting. Some of this work gave evidence of considerable skill and patience on the part of the little folk and is most creditable. Deprived of Speech Through Accident

Miss Charlotte Dunlap, who was struck on the head last Tuesday afternoon as she was sitting on the porch by the bedspring which fell over on her, is in a serious condition. Miss Dunlap was struck on the temple and as a result has lost her power of speech.

It is thought by the doctors that this is pressing on that part of the brain which controls speech. It is quite likely that it will be necessary to perform an operation.

Two More Vessels Sunk By German Agencies

Liverpool, May 7.—The Charente liner Candidate, of this city was torpedoed and sunk off Waterford island yesterday by a German submarine. The crew was saved.

The Candidate was a 1,500 ton vessel.

Gives up All Hope

Austria has apparently given up all hope of averting a conflict with Italy. An uncensored report from Vienna reached here yesterday morning announcing the proposed mission of Count Goluchowski, former Austrian foreign minister to Rome has been abandoned. It is believed that Count Goluchowski was to be bearer of Austria's reply to Italy's demand for a clear statement of its position of the dual monarchy regarding the cession of territory to Italy in return for continued neutrality.

War Expected by Wednesday

The abandonment of the mission is thought to mean that Austria realizes that it would be useless and that even an offer of further concessions to Italy would not prevent her intervention on the side of the entente powers. The rupture of Austro-Italian diplomatic relations is now regarded as inevitable and likely to occur not later than May 12.

State of Siege at Fiume

The Geyman archeological institute, attached to the German embassy in Rome, has been closed up. A state of siege has been declared at Fiume, the Hungarian seaport, and it is to be extended shortly throughout the southern provinces of Austro-Hungary.

CHINA ACCEDES TO JAPAN'S DEMANDS

(By United Press)

London, May 7.—Special despatches from Tokio say that the Chinese have practically acceded to all the Japanese demands and that only this prevents a war of terrible moment.

Pekin, May 7.—The Chinese' new reply was in effect an acceptance of practically all of the chief Japanese demands.

President Yuan Shi Kai and his advisers after an all night conference thought it useless to attempt to oppose the Japanese demands by force of arms.

LUSITANIA TORPEDOED BY GERMAN SUBMARINE; ALL PASSENGERS SAVED

(By United Press)

New York, May 7.—Rumors that the Cunard Steamship company liner Lusitania was attacked by a German submarine was circulated in shipping circles here this afternoon.

Ticker reports that the vessel was sunk off Kinsale island, which is about 15 miles south of Cork.

Many American Passengers.

Many Americans were on board, among them being Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Charles Frohman, Charles Kline, Elbert Hubbard and Mrs. Hubbard.

Torpedoed by Submarine

"The steamship Lusitania has been submarined off the coast of Ireland," was the message received by the steamship officials from London and given out by one of their executives.

He said that as this report has not been confirmed he was not prepared to make any statement, but would keep the public fully informed of every line of information received by them as soon as it is received.

The steamship company declined to state the source of its information, except that it was received from London by cablegram in the exact form as given out.

Report is Confirmed—All Passengers Rescued

A bulletin from London, received here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, confirms the report that the Lusitania has been torpedoed and sunk.

The vessel went down at 2:33 (London time).

All of the passengers were saved.

Madera Horse Stolen Young Thief Caught

Walter Vashinder, a youth of Madera, is in the Ebensburg jail, having been arrested on information from Madera that he had stolen a horse. The boy is alleged to have stolen the horse yesterday and took it to Ebensburg. He offered to sell the animal for $95, although it is said to be worth $200.

Young Vashinder, when arrested, was dressed a la western cowboy, with a regulation sombrero, a 32-caliber revolver, a dirk knife and a deck of cards. It is thought he started out from Madera to join others of his kind in killing Indians in the wild west, but his arrest spoiled that expedition. He will be brought back to Madera and may be lodged in jail.

German Successes Are Denied

(By United Press)

Washington, May 7.—The Russian embassy today received the following dispatch from the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs:

Petrograd, May 5 1915.—"The reports from Berlin and Vienna of a victory gained by the Germans and Austrians in Western Galicia are absolutely unfounded. The battles that are proceeding now in that region give no foundation whatever to talk even of a partial success of our enemies. You are asked to contradict most emphatically the reports spread by the Germans."

MURDER CASE JURYMEN DIFFICULT TO SECURE

FIRST WITNESSES HEARD BEFORE NOON

Likely That the Rest of the Week Will be Consumed in Taking Testimony, as There Are Many Witnesses to Examine—Pellereti is on Trial on the Charge That He Strangled His Wife to Death at Their Home in Woodland—Hint That Another Woman Was the Cause.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Joe Pellereti who is charged with having murdered his wife at the home of his brother near Woodland was resumed this morning at 10:30. Nearly all day yesterday was spent in examining jurors for the trial and when court adjourned last evening but nine had been chosen and the entire venire of fifty one men had been exhausted. The sheriff was directed to execute a special venire calling for thirty men from which to chose the remaining three jurors. These three were selected this morning.

The completed jury follows:

James Lord, Pike township.
C. B. Smith, Lawrence township.
Charles Glock, DuBois.
Robert Henderson, Pike township.
Michael Smith, Jordan township.
Jacob Kurtz, Troutville.
W. G. Chick, Sandy township.
James Fitch, Beccaria township.
Charles S. Strong, Jordan township.
Frank P. Bloom, Curwensville.
Creighton Wilson, Bigler.
Charles P. Johnson, DuBois.

Engineer E. W. Hess was the first witness called. Mr. Hess identified the plans he had made of the house and surroundings.

The next witness was Mrs. Pellereti, wife of the defendant's brother Charles, who testified that the last time she had seen Mrs. Joe Pellereti alive was at 7 o'clock on the evening of the murder.

Dal Thompson, who was directed by Undertaker F. B. Leavy to get the body, told where he found it.

PLEASING PROGRAM ON PATRONS DAY

There was a good attendance of parents at the Market street school building in observance of Patrons day yesterday afternoon. The program of discussions, printed in the Progress on Wednesday, was carried out with the exception of an address by Dr. S. C. Stewart, who was unavoidably absent. The various papers read were on subjects relating to the school and suggested improvements which should be made in their conducting.

Two of the papers were worthy of most careful consideration—"Patrons' Attitude Toward Teachers" and "The School as a Social Center."

G. and Jury Views The Creek Bridge

The grand jurors itinerated to the bridge over Clearfield creek, east of town, this morning and viewed the situation. At a recent term of court a petition was presented for the relocation of this bridge, which is on the road between Clearfield and Woodland, the desire being to straighten the road and cut out the dangerous curve beyond the bridge.

The matter was discussed this morning, those for and against the change being heard, and the grand jury will no doubt deal with the case in its report at the close of court this week.

HOME TRADE SLOGAN

In the Progress today will be found a story in which the surprising merchants and business men of Clearfield are prominently. This article may sound like fiction, but to the consumer who is worrying over the problem of reducing the high cost of living the tales related by the Judge, the Colonel and the Doctor will be found to be replete with facts of a mighty interesting and illuminating character. The housewife who wishes to make the money at her disposal go the farthest possible in providing for the needs of her family will find in this story some most excellent and wise counsel.

The Progress has at all times advocated buying at home. This paper cannot see any wisdom in the practice indulged in by many people of taking money they earn or other wise become possessed of in their own town and spending it with concerns in distant cities for goods which might as readily and as cheaply be purchased at the stores of the home merchants. The slogan of this paper is, "Buy of home merchants and encourage the home merchants to help build up the town." Buying of mail order houses is unpatriotic and does great harm to the town in which you live. There are in every town people who imagine that by buying of mail order houses they are getting something for nothing, forgetting for the moment the fact that the mail order houses are not philanthropists and are in business for the money they get from people in the small towns of the country. The prices offered by the mail order houses are in some instances a little lower than asked by the home merchant, but when a citizen buys of the mail order house he takes what is sent to him and if he is dissatisfied he has no remedy.

Not one penny of the millions of dollars which flow into the coffers of the mail order concerns ever returns to the people who contribute it. This fact should be considered by the people of Clearfield. It is the home merchant who helps to sustain the schools, churches and charitable institutions in Clearfield; the mail order houses contribute not one penny to these. It is the home merchant who responds to appeals of the hungry poor, the destitute and to all who are in need; the mail order house rakes in the people's money and cares nothing for the people or the town from which it comes.

Those who patronize the mail order houses are without local pride. They have not at heart the best interests of the town in which they live and in which they earn or otherwise get the money they spend with the mail order houses. They are not helping to build up the town in which they live and in which they should take some pride. They are selfish, and in their selfishness they are not only injuring the town, but themselves, for what hurts a town injures the individual citizen thereof. Read the Home Trade news in the Progress today and determine to trade with home merchants wholly hereafter.

A REPUBLICAN TRICK

Soldiers who, during the civil war, were ready to lay down their lives for their country, and fought in many battles are entitled to the pittance given them by the United States government in the shape of pensions. Surviving Pennsylvania soldiers believe this state is rich enough to give them some substantial recognition of their services during the war, but the veterans have abandoned all hope of having the legislature do them this justice.

At each recurring session of the state legislature in recent years Republican members have introduced bills granting a small annuity to the Keystone soldiers who still survive, and a great deal of oratory is wasted by Republican members in extolling the heroism of the veterans and in declaring that they should receive pensions from the state. And at each session of the legislature the soldiers' pension bill is defeated by these same Republican legislators.

These bills are introduced for the sole purpose of "jolly" the old soldiers and inducing them to support Republican candidates at the polls. There is no intention on the part of the Republican party in this state to grant pensions to the veterans, and this fact has at last percolated through the minds of the old soldiers, who now know that their pretended friends in the legislature have been fooling them for several years. It is a shame to attempt to hoodwink the men who fought for the honor of the state and the preservation of the Union, but it is a trick in keeping with the principles of the men in control of the Republican party in Pennsylvania at present.

JAPAN'S OPPORTUNITY

What was feared when Japan entered the European conflict is apparently about to take place. Japan's browbeating tactics with China could not have been started at more opportune time. China is practically helpless against the Nipponese, while the other nations of Europe are too busy in endeavoring to prevent their own destruction to seriously interfere with Japan's aggression against China. For it is only because she wishes to subjugate China and gain more territory that Japan has made demands upon the Chinese government which the latter cannot in honor grant.

Japanese statesmen may prate of the peaceful intentions of that country, but the fact remains that Japan is ready to attempt to take advantage of every opportunity to force herself into the ranks of the old world powers. Her violations of treaties between her country and China is regarded as a matter of course at Tokio. Japan's coming war of aggression will still further inflame her ambition, and if the chance affords there is no doubt that she will seek to still further expand her territory. In view of the known facts the United States has reason to feel rather uncomfortable over the nearness of the Philippines to Japan, whose covetous eyes see great possibilities in every direction.

Also, the annual report of the finances of the borough of Clearfield fails to give the itemized expenditures, which would be more interesting than the report of sewer and paving assessments, which take up so much space in the report.

Pity the farmer who, wishing to put in every minute in his fields, must waste the time listening to the wily candidate. There ought to be a law providing a closed season for the agriculturist.

The autoist who strews all kinds of debris in the public highways isn't encouraging the removal of broken glass and other tire-puncturing material from the roads.

The new fish code will permit an angler to catch forty trout a day, but in this neck o' woods he will have to visit several streams to get the limit.

Having prohibited fishing on Sunday the average man will have to learn to play golf if he wishes to enjoy himself on the Lord's day.

Clearfield at last has a health officer who not only understands his business, but attends to that business in an intelligent manner.

Love at first sight also applies to the woman who gets her first glimpse of an attractive bonnet in a millinery store window.

No danger of anybody in this neck o' woods exceeding the forty-a-day trout which may be caught under the new fish code.

Imitation may be the sincerest flattery, but it is also the cause of increasing the number of people who do not pay their debts.

Gardeners who broke their backs preparing the ground for seed now hope for warmer weather that the seed may sprout.

Clearfield will give the Woman's Suffrage Liberty bell a warm welcome when it passes through here in July.

A mere murder trial attracts little attention in this community these days.

Wait till the sweet south winds blow and the chill north air will disappear.

Japan is determined to break China while the opportunity presents.

REAL MEANING OF ZIONISM

Rebirth of Nation in Palestine is Movement for Greater Freedom of the Jews.

The Jewish movement called Zionism is not a movement for the restoration of the Jews to Palestine. The little land could not support more than 3,000,000 of the 14,000,000 Jews. It is a movement to win more freedom for Jews everywhere. But the new birth of a Jewish nation in Palestine is in process of practical completion.

A generation ago a few Jews emigrated from Roumania and Russia to Palestine because convinced that the Jew's undying yearning for the land of Abraham is a fact of the deepest meaning. It is evidence of the survival of a nationality that has shown its fitness to survive. Those pilgrims and their successors have demonstrated that Palestine is fit for the modern Jew and that he is fit for the land.

Where the land was treeless and supposed to be worthless sterile the colonists have caused the almond and the olive, the grape and the orange, wheat and the sister cereals to thrive and abound. They are changing the desert into a garden. At the same time the material development of the Jewish colonies has been accompanied by no less remarkable development of the Hebrew colonizers both socially and spiritually. Hebrews, after a sleep of more than two thousand years as a "dead" language, has again become a living tongue, serving as the medium of intercommunication between Jews from many countries of different languages. The renaissance of the Hebrew language has in turn acted powerfully to revive the spirit of Jewish nationality.

It is a strange instance of the turns of history's wheel that nearly twenty-three centuries after the return of the Jewish exiles from ancient Babylon, which for millenniums has been buried beneath the dust of ages, modern Jews now return again to the land of their fathers and build up another Hebrew commonwealth.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY
POMONA GRANGE

Pomona Grange, No. 33, met in the Mechanics Hall, Clearfield, Pa., April 29, 1915. The morning session opened in usual form with Worthy Master S. C. Read in the chair. All the sessions were very well attended, considering the busy time of the season. Officers all present except three. The morning session was taken up with general business, reports of deputies and the fire insurance company. Reports of Grangers showed a better average attendance than the previous report and many new names added to the roster.

At the afternoon session, a very interesting program was rendered. Report of the National grange meeting of 1914 was interesting. Reading of the "Grange Code" by V. P. Davis was listened to with much interest. "Early Garden Vegetables and Their Proper Culture" was discussed by Bro. T. L. Wall.

"What breed of chickens and the best method of hatching and brooding" was discussed by Bro. Curtis Read.

"The farmer and local option" was discussed by Bro. Peter Gearhart and F. B. Lee.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, the act defining commodities, regulating the sale thereof and providing penalties for violation thereof, No. 445, of 1915 session, providing that farm and some other products, when sold by the bushel, shall weigh certain arbitrary amounts per bushel, fixed by law, many of such weights not corresponding to the true weights of such commodities when measured in full standard bushel and so working hardships and loss to the farmers; therefore, be it

Resolved, by Penn Grange, No. 534, P. of H., held at Grampian, March 13, 1915, that the state legislature be asked to amend the above act by the addition of the following:

"Provided, that nothing in this act shall prevent the selling or make it unlawful to sell commodities by the full standard bushel, or peck, or half peck, or gallon, or quart, or pint, without regard to weight, when so stated by the vendor.

Whereas, Governor M. G. Brumbaugh has made a strenuous and persistent effort to have the wish of the people expressed on the temperance question at the ballot box, and

Whereas, his bill to this end, called the county option bill, was defeated by a large majority, therefore be it

Resolved, that this Pomona Grange, No. 33, P. of H. now in session, hereby express our sympathy for the governor and pledge our heartiest support in any future campaign he may wage to kill the demon rum.

Resolved, that we pledge our support only to the candidates who are pledged for temperance.

AMUSEMENTS

"Between Savage and Tiger"
 All jungle and animal pictures in the past have been limited to the visualization of wild animal life in its native quarter, showing their destruction or capture by hunters. George Kleine's photo drama "Between Savage and Tiger", however goes a step further. It not only shows the animals and terrors of the jungle, but also relates an absorbing story of love and heroism that enthralls the interest in the beginning and holds it fast until the very last picture fades upon the screen.

The jungle episodes, while thrilling enough to satisfy the most exacting demands for thrills and excitement, are subsidiary to the love interests. Herein the great Cines company of Italy has shown the master mind, for after all, love is the mainspring of life itself. In "Between Savage and Tiger" there is the love between the hero and his wife, which prompts the latter to brave the perils of India to find her husband. The child love of the little daughter whose sweetness endears her to everyone with whom she comes in contact and draws into their life history a bluff old sailor who proves their best friend in many dangerous situations.

Thus love plays the real important part in this drama of life in the wilds of India where the other actors are man-eating tigers, elephants, water-buffalo and savage tribesmen. "Between Savage and Tiger" will prove one of George Kleine's biggest money makers because it appeals has no bounds. It will be eagerly seen and enjoyed by young and old of all sexes and stations. The first presentation here will be Friday night at the opera house. 5-6-2t.

Wm. Farnum in Samson

William Farnum, the celebrated actor, who pleased a big audience last Monday night at the opera house when he played the principal part in "The Gilded Fool", will be presented again on Monday, May 10, in a strong play of love and finance called "Samson." In this picture Farnum plays the part of a dock laborer, who, through his strength and ability, has risen to be the greatest power in the money world. He has fallen in love with a beautiful girl, who marries him to save the fortunes of her family and who really despises him. His wife has an intrigue with a dissolute rake, who has made his fortune through her husband, who discovers her affections and resolves on revenge. He does this through his power of finance and pulls down the structure that his wealth and ability has reared, ruining himself with the others who have been living off his ability. After the ruin the wife sees the true character of her husband and her hate turns to love.

MORDECAI BROWN DESCRIBES RECORD GAME

"I've played in and watched a good many ball games in my time," says Mordecai Brown, the noted pitcher, now with the Chicago Federals, "but the record game of them all was staged in St. Louis last season. I was working against Seaton. In the twelfth inning, with the score tied, Brooklyn came up and made seven runs. It got so bad that the last two men struck out on purpose to end the game before darkness, or we might never have retired the side. Men, this Goes:

THE motorists who are getting the most out of their machines, summer and winter, are the fellows who regularly and consistently feed Atlantic Gasoline. Because Atlantic "Gas" has the gait and get-there spirit that puts pep and power behind a piston—that takes figures off your "gas" bill and puts them on your speedometer, where they belong.

Atlantic Gasoline has a uniform "boiling point" that assures every new lot of "gas" to be exactly like the last you put in. Your carburetor, once adjusted, stays put.

Atlantic "Gas" has a liveliness that begets easy starting on all kinds of days, and it has more mileage to the cubic inch than ordinary gasoline. It is made from the finest crude oil that flows—made to a definite standard by the oldest and largest refiners in the State. That's why the merry mob of motorists ask for "Atlantic Gasoline," by name, instead of trusting to luck with "Give me five gallons of gas."

All good garages sell Atlantic Gasoline, and Atlantic trucks and tankers deliver any quantity, anywhere, any time.

AMUSEMENTS

"Between Savage and Tiger"
All jungle and animal pictures in the past have been limited to the visualization of wild animal life in its native quarter, showing their destruction or capture by hunters. George Kleine's photo drama "Between Savage and Tiger", however goes a step further. It not only shows the animals and terrors of the jungle, but also relates an absorbing story of love and heroism that enlists the interest in the beginning and holds it fast until the very last picture fades upon the screen.

The jungle episodes, while thrilling enough to satisfy the most exacting demands for thrills and excitement, are subsidiary to the love interests. Herein the great Cines company of Italy has shown the master mind, for after all, love is the mainspring of life itself. In "Between Savage and Tiger" there is the love between the hero and his wife, which prompts the latter to brave the perils of India to find her husband. The child love of the little daughter whose sweetest endears her to everyone with whom she comes in contact and draws into their life history a bluff old sailor who proves their best friend in many dangerous situations.

Thus love plays the real important part in this drama of life in the wilds of India where the other actors are man-eating tigers, elephants, water-buffalo and avage tribesmen. "Between Savage and Tiger" will prove one of George Kleine's biggest money makers because it appeals to all. It will be eagerly seen and enjoyed by young and old of all sexes and stations. The first presentation here will be Friday night at the opera house.

Wm. Farnum in Samson

William Farnum, the celebrated actor, who pleased a big audience last Monday night at the opera house when he played the principal part in "The Gilded Fool", will be presented again on Monday, May 10, in a strong play of love and finance called "Samson". In this picture Farnum plays the part of a dock laborer, who, through his strength and ability, has risen to be the greatest power in the money world. He has fallen in love with a beautiful girl, who marries him to save the fortunes of her family and who really despises him. His wife has an intrigue with a dissolute rake, who has made his fortune through her husband, who discovers her affections and resolves on revenge. He does this through his power of finance and pulls down the structure that his wealth and ability has reared, ruining himself with the others who have been living off his ability. After the ruin the wife sees the true character of her husband and her hate turns to love.

HUNTERS WILL THIS YEAR WEAR SALMON COLORED TAGS

Pennsylvania's hunters will sport salmon-colored license tags on their arms when they go into the woods next fall. The orders for the printing of the tags have been given to the printer and they will be delivered to the county authorities long before the season opens. It is expected that in the neighborhood of 200,000 hunters will be granted licenses.

MORDECAI BROWN DESCRIBES RECORD GAME

"I've played in and watched a good many ball games in my time," says Mordecai Brown, the noted pitcher, now with the Chicago Federals, "but the record game of them all was staged in St. Louis last season. I was working against Seaton. In the twelfth inning, with the score tied, Brooklyn came up and made seven runs. It got so bad that the last two men struck out on purpose to end the game before darkness, or we might never have retired the side. Then, with that seven runs handicap and Seaton pitching, we came in and made eight runs with two still on and only one out. We could have made three or four more, and I believe they would have done the same. Yet there are people who try to dope out this blooming game."

Brown pitched for Chicago yesterday, losing to Baltimore 8 to 9.

Picnic Twist Chewing Tobacco

HERE it is—the modern container for the finest, mildest twist chewing tobacco ever known in this section. A yellow drum printed in brown and red. It will be imitated. Every success is. But don't be misled. The taste of the tobacco—its mildness—are all its own. "The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chomers" said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

Light, a fine gentleman with all the airs and accomplishments of a courtier. The terrors of the plague in London in 1665 revived his pious tendencies. This time he was sent to Ireland, where he distinguished himself as a soldier. It happened while in Ireland at Cork that he strolled into a meeting house. Thomas Lee was preaching. He spoke from the text "There is a faith that overcomes the world and there is a faith that is overcome by the world." From that meeting is dated Penn's thorough conversion to Quakerism. It is a curious fact that the only authentic portrait of the great apostle of peace represents him at this period as a young man armed and accoutered as a soldier.

that a negro detective conceded to be in the employ of the defense, had tried to bribe her in the presence of two men, was offered; George Toomer, a cousin of Celia, swore that two days after the murder, Celia told him her incriminating allegations against Mrs. Carman and he corroborated Celia's story of the proffered bribe.

Defense Witnesses Grilled

Both were witnesses of District Attorney Smith, but other testimony was obtained which is thought to be fully as damaging to Mrs. Carman. Most of the defense's witnesses took the stand during the afternoon, and Mr. Smith went after them fiercely. Mrs. Ida Powell, sister of Mrs. Carman and chief witness of Mrs. Carman's alibi—that she was in her room when the fatal shot was fired—came in for a full share of Mr. Smith's attacks; and it seemed to many that he reduced her story to absurdity.

Her Smile Erased

During the day the smile which Mrs. Carman usually had displayed frequently was erased. Doctor Carman sat beside his wife with a continual frown, and the hobnobbing of the three Carman lawyers indicated the agitation they felt. George M. Levy was on his feet most of the time during the testimony of Celia and Toomer, storming objections at Justice Blackmar, who decided that Levy himself had opened the gates for the new testimony offered by these witnesses.

Of course, Mrs. Carman is the best witness for the defense, and she and Doctor Carman will be heard tomorrow. Justice Blackmar wants to get the case to the jury before Saturday night.

PLEASING PROGRAM

ON PATRONS DAY

"Cooperation of Parents and Teachers," the former by Mrs. Charles T. Kurtz and the latter by Mrs. George B. Reed. The ideas suggested by these two ladies should bear fruit in closer relations between parents and teachers to the end that the schools may become more efficient and the teacher may be better understood and appreciated.

The display of work done by the pupils was viewed with pleasure by those at the meeting. Some of this work gave evidence of considerable skill and patience on the part of the little folk and is most creditable. Patrons' day at the school should become one of the most important days on the calendar of the citizens of Clearfield.
